THE PEANUT.

The spread of the culture of peanuts since the war has been remarkable. Ever since we can recollect, a few of the farmers in the neighborhood of our city have been in the habit of raising "patches" to a limited extent, but they never made more than they could put into one or two carts and send to the daily market in Norfolk. During ten years before the war a few went so far as to plant two or three acres; but still the amount raised was so inconsiderable as not to be entitled to the name of a staple.

One of the results of the war has been to change the crops in this region. The uncertainty of labor has compelled the farmers to cultivate plants that require less ground and less labor to produce a given amount of money. The culture of corn is not, as formerly, so exclusively carried on as to engross the whole attention of the farmers. It is found to be a losing business to put a man's farm entirely in a cereal that costs so much more to cultivate it in the way of fences, manure and labor than almost any growth that could be substituted for it. Moreover the citizens of African descent have an uncontrollable propensity for stealing corn in any shape, from the roasting-ears to the stores in the crib.

It has been found that the peanut will bring far more money to the acre than Indian corn, and it has within the last three years been introduced very extensively into the counties from this city to Petersburg. The money received for the crop in this city has been during the last year upwards of one million of dollars—far more than that what was received for the corn produced on the same farms before the war. Peas of the best quality have commanded in our market $3 a bushel, and an acre well prepared will bring fifty bushels, or $150. But this is not the best that has been done. A fine article has produced $3.15, and some of the lands peculiarly well manured have produced seventy-five bushels—or in money $236 to the acre.

Now these are not so large sums by a good deal as are produced by trucks and berries; but they show that peanuts are a very fair crop notwithstanding.

The planting and raising are very simple. The light soil of the counties of South of James river seems specially adapted to it. This has to be enriched with lime and scrapings of the forest, &c., with a moderate portion of guano. The lime should be used to the extent of ten bushels to the acre, and the guano at about the rate of ten pounds to the hundred yards of the rows. The peas should be planted eighteen inches apart and one inch deep. The season for planting is about the first of May.

The raising of this plant is extremely well adapted to the present transition state of our agriculture. It is not absolutely new to our farmers, and the price it brings is so superior to that produced by corn and oats, as gradually to wean them from their culture. Great changes cannot be made in a day, and the peanut will do much to alienate our farmers from the beaten track pursued by their ancestors. The real cause of the backwardness of agriculture in Virginia has always been the mental capacity of the negro, which is limited to the most elementary notions; and the cultivation of the peanut is not above his capacity.—Norfolk Journal.

VARIETY OF FOOD FOR ANIMALS.—Many suppose that this means to make a complete change every little while; but, according to my experience, such changes are altogether wrong in the sudden way some make them. Variety, according to my idea, is sufficient and best to be given with regularity and daily with cows and sheep during feeding seasons, and when it is necessary and advisable to give a fresh kind of food, it is well to do it gradually. For instance, when cows go to grass, put them out first when the dew has evaporated, and get them in early in the evening, and feed at night, for the first week, keeping them in their former quarters, and by the same rule accustom them by degrees, to a dry diet for winter; but in the United States, as the hay generally consists of one or two course grasses, it is requisite to give bran or feed of some kind to keep the animal in tiptop condition, whereas hay made from the natural grasses, where the varieties almost exceed belief, will make beef without any auxiliary whatever.

Hay, meal and oilcake, given daily for months, is all the variety many of the fattest beasts have had. When a few good Swedes are added, the variety is great; but to give oilcake for a week, and then for a change give none, would be a very great folly in the fattening of any animal. When cattle are fed with any degree of judgment, any variety of the kind here alluded to is contrived there will be no sickness, no unthriftiness, and perhaps no abortions among females, unless they eat hay made from grass when the seeds shed, in which case ergot and the seeds from many weeds, which have time to mature, may cause mischief of this kind. "Variety is charming," but sudden change is only a little better than no agent at all—unless the changes are all for the better, in which state of things change away.

UNIFORMITY OF TEXT-BOOKS.

We once laid to our souls the flattering unction that this magnificent humbug was exploded. Teachers understand it well; but it jingles so delightfully in the ears of many persons that politicians can not let it die. Lawyers may choose their own lines of argument, preachers may select their texts for every occasion, physicians may use their own remedies for every variety of disease; farmers may choose their agricultural implements and are advised to be constantly alert for every new invention, carpenters may select their planes, augers and saws; shoemakers may use whatever awls they prefer, but teachers alone have not sufficient sense to choose their tools, and our Legislature decides that the Board of Education on which not one practical teacher is found, must designate text-books to be unchanged for two years. The progress of science may discover new facts and develop, in philosophy and astronomy, new theories, but old errors and exploded theories must be taught for two years. A teacher may find himself unable to adapt his system (and no man can be a teacher without a system of his own) to the text-book selected. Then he must act the hypocrite and his teaching must be a farce.

An arithmetic may be selected, and a school may supply itself with private keys; the teacher becomes helpless and hopeless. The teacher becomes a mere machine to be run by the State.

When did people make the discovery that teachers have not sense enough to attend to their own business? If the Legislature will pass a law requiring all teachers to be created alike, and all students to be born alike, than there may be some propriety in requiring all to work with the same tools; but in the absence of such a law, teachers ought to enjoy some liberty and be permitted to select such books as their own gifts and acquirements will enable them to use to the best advantage.—Biblical Recorder.

CASH RATES!
CASH POLICIES!
CASH DIVIDENDS!

DIVIDENDS PAID ANNUALLY, COMMENCING AT THE END OF THE YEAR.

Dividends may be used to reduce the annual Premium, or increase the Cash value of the Policy.

NON-FORFEITING CASH PLAN.

The Ætna issues Policies on the various forms of whole life and endowment insurance, with dividends on the contribution plan, which may be applied to the reduction of each annual premium after the first, or the full premium, may be paid each year and the dividens applied to reduce the number of annual premiums, together with the period fixed for the maturity of the insurance, so that endowments can be paid to the insured before the time originally specified, and life policies before death.

By this plan of applying the dividends to lessen the cost of the insurance on the original policy, instead of increasing the amount of insurance, and of course its total cost, and the policies will become self-sustaining much sooner than in other companies; and in case of inability to continue payments, give a larger paid-up-policy.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, at an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

The New York Insurance Monitor says of the ÆTNA:

"No Life Insurance Company ever achieved so complete a success as this popular institution.—Its popularity is altogether unprecedented in the annals of commercial enterprise in this country."

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 28, 1869.

ORANGE COURT—TRUTH TRIUMPHANT.

Doubt you the stars are fire;
Doubt that the sun doth move;
Doubt truth to be a liar,
But never doubt the presentment of a Grand Jury.

It will be remembered, by the readers of the Sentinel, that at the last Fall term of Orange Superior Court, the Grand Jury, with great propriety, presented the correspondence between Gov. Holden and Gen. Miles, as stating facts that had no existence and intended for party purposes. They presented the Judge who held the Court, for entering into a heated political contest and declaring himself a candidate for Congress, while riding his circuit. In the presentment they quoted the language used by Judge Tourgee to his competitor "Hon." Windy Billy Henderson, charging that he was indicted for mule stealing, &c. They also presented the Judge for fighting on the train, in the ladies' ear and in the ladies' presence, with the "Hon." Windy Billy.—They, also, presented Chief Justice Pearson for writing that hypocritical political letter. They presented every Judge on the bench, except Judge Mitchel, for taking an active part in politics. They presented Congress for reconstructing us under such a Boreau officer, as Crocket, who had plundered and oppressed the people of Orange, and for pay, turned felons out of jail.

Judge Tourgee, in a letter to the Standard, denied that any such presentment had been made, and in the letter said, if it had been he would have put the Grand Jury in jail, &c.

We heard every word of the Judge's charge on Monday, to the Grand Jury of Orange. Alluding to the presentments made by the Grand Jury, at the last term of the Court, the Judge said, "it gave him no pleasure to recur to it. It was not creditable to the county or to the Grand Jury. He believed they had made the presentments without due consideration. As to himself he cared nothing for it, it did not hurt him." Such were the words of the Judge as near as we can remember. Now the charge don't tally with the letter of the Judge, that there was no presentment; for the Judge acknowledged and admitted it time and again, and alluded to the presentment as having been made, as in truth, and, in fact, it was made by eighteen as respectable gentlemen as ever sat in a jury box.

"Truth crushed to earth shall rise again,
The eternal years of God are here,
But error, wounded, writhes with pain,
And dies among his worshippers."

ORANGE COURT—JUDGE TOURGEE AGAIN.

We take it from the charge of Judge Tourgee that Solicitor Bulla will not draw a bill upon the presentment made of the Judges, nor will there be another presentment of the Judges by the present Grand Jury. The purpose of the Grand Jury in presenting the Judiciary, was to call public attention to the prostitution of the Judiciary of the State, under the despotism of reconstruction.

Under reconstruction and the Federal sword, the new Constitution was forced upon the people of the State before one in fifty had read it.

The men elected to hold office under the new Constitution, were, many of them, unknown to the people. Many of them were ignorant and wholly unqualified for the places to which they were elected. Two or three of them were known murderers; one of them a convicted murderer; one Judge elected was presented for perjury by the Grand Jury of the Federal Court. Another Judge after his election, was arrested in the City of Raleigh as a drunken nuisance and carried to the door of the City prison, for the incarceration of his Judicial corporosity.

The wonder is that every Grand Jury of the State after such a prostitution of the bench did not present the Judges, as did the Grand Jury of Orange. It was a pitiable sight to see every Judge, save one, appealing by letter or speech to 80,000 negroes to secure their seats on the bench. The bar with entire unanimity condemned it and now condemn it. Instead of signing a protest, they should have called meetings of the people and denounced such unjudicial conduct and corrupting influence of the Judiciary. Judge Tourgee and Gov. Holden pretend that the Grand Jury of Orange went beyond the sphere of their duty in making the presentment. The Governor and Judge Tourgee were both gratified that the Grand Jury of Massachusetts presented President Johnson. The Grand Jury of England once presented the River Thames for overflowing its banks, and the historian says, with good and beneficial results to the nation. It called the attention of the nation to the fact that life and property were lost by the overflow of the Thames, and the nation took steps to prevent the overflow.

The Grand Jury of Orange have called the attention of the nation, and especially the attention of the people of the State to our Judiciary. The bar follows with a respectful protest. It is to be hoped that these two notices will prove a sufficient admonition to the prostitute Judiciary of the State; if it is not, then let the people hold frequent meetings and denounce the political Judiciary as they deserve.

The Judge concluded his charge to the Grand Jury by expressing the hope, that there would be no presentment by the present Grand Jury as there was by the last. He need not be alarmed. The good purpose of the Grand Jury has been fully accomplished. If the Judge does not fight on this circuit, as he did on the last, with "Hon." Windy Billy Henderson, the Grand Jury of Orange will take no further account of him.

SENATORS SPRAGUE AND ABBOTT.

The quarrel of these Senators, at Washington, created quite an excitement for some days. "Pistols and coffee" were said to be looked for, and some of the puritanical hypocrites like Sumner, seemed to be much alarmed.

We looked for nothing of the sort.—Sprague is a peace man, though inclined to a war of words, and Abbott is about ditto. Abbott once threatened to make war upon the editor of the Sentinel but took care not to attempt it.

Sprague in a conversation with a reporter is said to have made the following remarks:

"Mr. Senator, what do you think of Abbott?"

"Oh, well," he said, "he don't amount to much. He is one of those lawyers who have a great estimation of their own abilities. You see Abbott is a Yankee, and he is sharp enough to know that it would not do for him to go back to North Carolina after having been called a 'puppy dog' here in the Senate without some show at what they call chivalry in the South. Why, the very negroes down there would not speak to him. This is the way I account for his speech last night. I don't think he means any mischief; at least, I have no fears or apprehensions on the subject."

The redoubtable North Carolina Senator, in a conversation with the reporter for the New York Herald, confessed all that Sprague had suggested in the paragraph above quoted:

"Senator Abbott: Well, there need be no toil loil about it. It has simply come to this, that Mr. Sprague must either retract or do worse. If I was from New England, perhaps, I would put up with such insults meekly; but not being from that peaceful region, I shall take the liberty of settling the affair in another method."

Abbott thus bows to Southern chivalry, but in his subsequent course, which ended in the settlement of the affair, he makes hot-haste to break down. The truth is, there is but little fight in a carpet-bagger, unless you corner him and he can't get out. They remind one of Sherman's bummers, who were always conveniently deaf or blind, when carrying on their stealing. The only way to arouse them was to claim and wrest from them the stolen property.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.

Rumor for some days has repeated the statement that several of the Cabinet of President Grant will resign. The generally well informed correspondent of the Richmond Dispatch, "Wallace" says:

We have the best authority for stating that there is no foundation whatever in the report that Secretary Borie contemplates resigning his position. The same is also true concerning Secretary Fish and Attorney General Hoar. All these reports are put in circulation by parties who have some special object in view, and wish to make capital by making it appear that the Secretaries are not satisfied with their positions, and do not agree altogether with the President and his policy.

CUBAN AFFAIRS.

The Government is in possession of information to the effect that the cause of the insurgents in Cuba is not at all flattering. It appears that their agents here and in New York have admitted that unless they obtain recognition or material aid from our Government they will be unable to hold out beyond sixty days. It is understood that the Administration is not disposed to interfere with affairs in the island beyond the protection of American citizens and their interests. The English and French Ministers understands affairs in Cuba and the attitude of our Government, and have advised their respective governments accordingly.

FERTILIZERS.

It is understood that many of our farmers are using largely, this year, fertilizers, in different parts of the State. We had hoped that the lesson taught them in 1867 would put them on their guard. We are of opinion that most of the manipulated guanos or other fertilizers are worthless. If farmers desire to use manipulated fertilizers, they should purchase the genuine ingredients and manipulate them themselves. Compost heaps, lime, stable manure, &c., are most reliable. Genuine Peruvian guano or pure phosphates, when used properly, as the soil needs, do well, but are frequently so used as to injure rather than benefit or do little good. Let the object of planters be more to enrich and improve their lands permanently, rather than to make a large crop for one year. In a word, let planters do what they can within themselves towards manuring. When they buy fertilizers largely, let them not forget 1867.

CHARLES A. DANA, Editor of the N. Y. Sun, was arrested in New York, to day, on suit by J. Russell Young, Managing Editor of the Tribune for libel.

We are tired of this thing called a Republican Government.

We are sick of seeing the people presided over by politicians as the fishermen preside over the fishes—to catch them in drags or bait them to death on soft mush and sugared bait.

We are tired of this thing called suffrage. Whereby the people as a mass, (who are always silly things when taken collectively,) vote like idiots for the very worst men over the very best.

What is this structure that the people of the United States in the full exercise of their suffrages have erected? It is a structure that they have once torn half way down and have ever threatened to destroy.

It is an old mansion house that part sleep in and part sleep out and both sides are smartly disgusted with.

It is a habitation for duck legged justices that can neither spell nor expound the law; for congressmen and legislators the majority of whose spirits will never fly higher than their heads towards heaven; and for swashing bullies and swaggering blackguards whose ambition it is to strut "cock of the walk" at home and to clean out "ary" other man for office in the "Dee-strict." It will not be always thus though. Things are working.—Hills. Record.

The 17th of May has been fixed as the date for the meeting of the Old and New School General Assemblies of the Presbyterian church in New York, when then the question of re union will be finally settled. Both northern churches.

PEN AND INK SKETCHES OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA, AS IT HAS BEEN.

DEDICATED TO THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE, AND TO THE ALUMNI OF THE UNIVERSITY.

N. 2.

ITS FIRST PRESIDENT.

A great literary festival was held at Princeton last Fall on occasion of the inauguration of their new and distinguished President, Dr. McCosh, and the Alumni of the old College were gathered from all parts to assist in the solemnities, and to rejoice in the prosperity of their Alma Mater. Two graduates of the class of 1795 were present! Bending with years and honors, these venerable men were saluted by the vast assemblage with reverence and enthusiasm. One would like to enquire what are their recollections of the young and obscure man who was their Tutor at Nassau Hall seventy-four years ago, who became our first President, and who was destined in the Providence of God to play an important part in our State, and to have his name handed down with reverence to distant generations.—Whether or not he impressed his associates at that early age with any distinct sense of his superiority, it is certain that Dr. Caldwell was a remarkable man, and singularly well fitted to be the first President of a new University.

HIS APPEARANCE.

In the first place he was a man to magnify his office. He had a high sense of the dignity of Letters, and never forgot what was due to his position. Though not above the middle height, his appearance and manners were impressive, formed in the old school of dignified and formal courtesy. His eyes were dark and penetrating, overhung by bushy eyebrows; his dress was always neat, precise and handsome. He looked the President and thorough gentleman.

He was perhaps something of a martinet in his notions of authority and discipline, though this was always tempered with benignity and kindly allowance. No man could be in Dr. Caldwell's company without at once acknowledging that here was a man to be respected, and deferred to, beyond ordinary limits. He was well known to be an ardent and untiring student, his tastes inclining him to the exact sciences, though his classical attainments were also extensive and accurate. He was an admirable Latinist.

HIS CHARACTER.

A man however may be a gentleman and a fine scholar, and yet make a very poor presiding officer. We cannot look at what Dr. Caldwell alone and unaided, did in the early years of this century, for the struggling infancy of the University without feeling that he possessed other qualifications more rare than those which mark the close and successful student. He had very great administrative ability, and the power to inspire unlimited confidence in all who approached him. His integrity was known to be inflexible; he was utterly fearless in the discharge of duty; his bare word had the authority of an oath. I can scarcely imagine the indignant scorn with which he would have repelled any suggestion of underhand dealing, or intrigue—more especially for his own interests. All men felt instinctively that a mean or selfish thought was never harbored in his breast; that he was in the fullest sense of the word what we in these later days would call reliable.

Added to this power of impressing and controlling others, Dr. Caldwell had great intuitive sagacity in judging of character, and in operating on those around him.—But what most distinguished him perhaps in that day of small things in North Carolina, was his far-seeing and liberal views of Internal Improvement, and plans for the public good. He was in many things singularly ahead of his generation. A man who looked far beyond and over the narrow agitations of the day, and thought for posterity.

THE "CARLTON LETTERS."

It has been now ten or fifteen years since I saw Gov. Swain with a copy of Dr. Caldwell's "Carlton Letters" in his hand,—letters written forty or fifty years ago to the people of North Carolina on the importance and advantage of Railroads, and now forgotten, but which would do good if in circulation now. Gov. Swain loved to speak of them, and point out their excellencies. There is a homely humor and force of illustration, a plain way of putting the argument, with such evidence of keen and sagacious observation of the common people, their ways and their wants, as we rarely see in a close student and man of letters. In those points they are not unlike Sydney Smith's admirable lectures to the poor of his parish.

One of those letters, I think, took the form of a dialogue. The old hard-headed farmer is shown the advantage of quick returns for his crops, and the advantage of a variety of crops on his little farm. Charles the son is told how, instead of lounging and yawning away his odd hours, round the country store or tavern, learning to drink and talk politics, he might easily acquire skill in some light handicraft, to be carried on in the interests of farm work,—say basket-making,—baskets made from rosiers grown on the creek side, and shipped to Newbern and Beaufort per Railroad, and sold directly. While the girls, Polly and Betsey, would find ready sale in the same market for their knitting, and weaving, and butter and cheese. Thus profits are shown to flow in through a dozen small channels before unthought of,—toil is sweetened, life invigorated and brightened, and advantage gained everyway. "From the mountains to Beaufort," was Dr. Caldwell's great idea,—and as many side branches as you please. There are plenty of farmers in the State today, who would do well to read those letters penned by the first President of the University for their fathers and grandfathers.

WHAT HE DID FOR THE UNIVERSITY.

When Dr. Caldwell came to North Carolina, its so called University was little more than a Grammar School. Its resources were far from corresponding to the magnitude of its plan. People had relapsed from their first enthusiasm and were comfortably settled in the belief that with so many thousand acres of wild land, and so many indefinite waifs and strays conferred on it by the Legislature, its future was secure. Its pretentions, however, were in reality very humble. But two Instructors were employed, the scale of studies exceedingly contracted, and the patronage slender.—The population of the country was rude and uncultured, and the young men untrained and impatient of restraint. Among Dr. Caldwell's early associates too, were men of loose principles and habits, infected with the infidelity of the day which the French Revolution had made fashionable. There was very much to try the patience and the feelings of one to whom was entrusted the task of maintaining discipline, and giving instruction.

For the first nine years of its existence, no one of the officers of the University was distinguished as President. But Dr. Caldwell, immediately on his entrance into the Faculty, became its master spirit, and was the presiding Professor till 1804, when he was formally elected President.

It is very clear that upon the character of the President more than any other man connected with the University, hung its life and reputation. It was for him alone to digest and arrange the course and methods of instruction and plan of discipline. It was his part to lay broad and deep the foundations of morality and reverence for the Christian Religion, so that they could never again be disturbed,—a lack of which care, has well nigh proved fatal to the existence of the Universities of sister States! It was for him to manage its resources, to secure the co-operation of his colleagues, the veneration of his pupils, and the entire confidence of the Board of Trustees, and the people of the State.—A hard, but noble task for a young man.

Dr. Caldwell threw himself into the work of building up the University with all the energy and resolution of his character. He did not spare himself. His reputation as a scholar, and instructor, and disciplinarian steadily advanced, and with it the patronage of the public, until in 1811 it was found that new buildings and ampler facilities were needed to accommodate the increasing numbers. The Legislature, in its wisdom, had by that time withdrawn one of the sources of revenue at first bestowed, and refusing further assistance, Dr. Caldwell appealed to the private munificence of the people of the State. He spent the vacations of this year travelling over a portion of North Carolina, and soliciting aid. So generally was he respected, and so great was the confidence felt in his administration, that he obtained the sum of $12,000, in a short time, and with this was enabled to complete the South Building, which had stood for several years, but a story and a half high, and unroofed. Thenceforward the success of the University was beyond doubt.

CHAPEL HILL IN DR. CALDWELL'S TIME.

A body of Professors began to gather round the President who would have given reputation to any College in the land, and who strengthened and upheld his administration in every way. A society began to form in Chapel Hill which naturally expanding with the growth of the village, was yet guarded by the conservatism of the College, and possessed a prestige of its own; a society in which by the prolonged lives of its heads, two generations were closely linked, so that it came down to this day unimpaired in tone, yet elevated and improved by the culture of the day; a society that has only lately been broken up and dispersed for ever, but the like of which North Carolina will not soon see again.

Such communities are the fruit of long years of cultivation, the growth of more than one generation.

CITIZENSHIP BY MARRIAGE.—The Supreme Court of the United States has rendered the following decision in the case of Ellen Kelly ex. Edward Owens, on appeal from the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia—to-wit: That any alien white woman married to a citizen of the United States is a citizen under the act of 10th of February, 1855, which is the following language: "Any woman who might lawfully be naturalized under the existing laws, married, or who shall be married, to a citizen of the United States, shall be deemed and taken to be a citizen of the United States." There has hitherto been a great diversity of opinion as to the construction of the above act by the laws of the country, but the above decision settles the matter beyond controversy.

Lightning struck two trees at Milton in the Baptist church yard and shocked several persons that were near by, during a storm several days ago. I learn that during the same storm lightning struck a tree at Connallys meeting house 2 miles from this place and tore it all to pieces scattering it all over the yard.—Hillsboro Recorder.

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—What is doing to make the Association efficient? If it is the purpose to have a State Fair, its friends should be up and doing. STATE MATERIAL SOCIETY.—The members of the profession should bear in mind the annual meeting of the Society to be held at Salisbury on the 12th of May.—Half fare has been secured for the delegates on all the Rail Roads. It ought to be a large meeting. The profession should press its objects fully upon the people and secure their co-operation. Whatever tends to the improvement of medical science and protects and improves the arts of curing diseases and preserving life, ought to be warmly sustained. Instead of a wide door of access to the profession, it ought to be made more difficult to enter.

"YELLOW GLOVES,"—TEN DOLLAR TAX—TREES—BANK BURTCY—FLEA-BITES, &c., &c.

MR. EDITOR:—In the Standard of the 23rd. of March last, appears an article headed "Rockingham Court—'Tobacco on the Brain'—'The Lawyers,' which is signed "B." In said article, a rather complimentary allusion is made to "Mr. Solicitor J. R. Bulla"—his "yellow gloves bought in Randolph," &c., &c.

Now every one who is familiar with said "Solicitor Bulla's" diction, and his "Yellow gloves" know that the article was written by himself. His "yellow gloves," beaver hat, fine broad cloth suit, and bankruptcy, while certain honest farmers that we wot of, who furnished money to the wearer of these articles, while their wives and daughters go dressed in plain homespun, the work of their own hands, and bankruptcy intervenes between these honest creditors and the wearer of "yellow gloves," furnish food for thought and subjects of reflection to some plain unsophisticated countrymen—even "loil" countrymen about a "loil" Solicitor, elected by the "loil" colored aristocracy.

But what does that matter, if Tourgee can be flattered into a certificate of probable cause in the case of every poor devil who is indicted, and a Solicitor's fee of $10 obtained in every case of misdemeanor, either out of the defendant or out of the homespun clad farming tax-payers, and the poor farming creditor can be deprived of his just rights by bankruptcy, and the "yellow gloves," beaver hat and broad cloth suit kept up? Why let the creditors and their families go in dirt and rags; provided always "Mr. Solicitor Bulla" can wear "yellow gloves," a beaver hat and broad cloth suit. "All's well that ends well" for the Solicitor; that's the motto. Blow your own horn, "Mr. Solicitor Bulla," or nobody will blow it for you. Don't speak of being "flea-bitten," as you did on last Fall Circuit, or some one may suggest that you stop at flea-y places, and where chicken feathers are more plentiful than money, to pay for the fowls. Blow your horn! that's right, but be careful how you blow. Blow ten dollars out of either the defendant or the tax-payers in every case of misdemeanor, while other Solicitors get only four; but don't blow about "yellow gloves, beaver hats, bankruptcy, debts due homespun farmers, and being flea-bitten" among your friends. It's bad policy. It won't do. It will ruin the party and you too.

You ought not to have cursed the negroes up to the time of your nomination for Solicitor, but then you did'nt know you could be nominated till you took that trip to Raleigh, and Holden promised you the nomination. You then quit cursing the negroes, and, I had almost said turned to kissing; but I won't; for this might, by accident, encounter "disloyal" eyes. But I will say you have done the best you knew, ever since the promise of the nomination. But you ought not to talk about being "flea-bitten" among your friends. Ten dollars a case will pay you for saying nothing about "flea-bites," and for the "yellow gloves," beaver hat, and broad cloth suit too, and bankruptcy will close the mouths of the homespun farmers that you owe. So hold up your head and continue to wear your beaver hat, your broad cloth suit and the "yellow gloves," no matter where they are bought; but only be just a little more careful how you talk about being "flea-bitten" among those who elected you, even if there are chicken feathers, among which the fleas can roost.

"LOYALTY."

A REVIVAL of religion is in progress in the Methodist Church, at Wilson, under the charge of Rev. C. C. Dodson.

SOUTHERN "TOURISTS."

The Baltimore Gazette's correspondent writes from Washington:

After reading the vivid accounts in the Chronicle of recent Ku Klux outrages at the South, and hearing of a contemplated visit of the Hon. John W. Forney and others to the President yesterday, with a view of a friendly confab before his departure for the South, (where no man's life is considered safe,) I took it for granted that the object of the visit was to solicit a military escort. I repaired, therefore, to the White House in hopes of obtaining the exact number of troops considered necessary for the safety of the expedition, infantry, cavalry and flying artillery. But what was my surprise when it turned out that the delegation had nothing to say except that the visit was a purely disinterested one, entirely devoid of politics—Colonel Forney adding (logically) that "they therefore had deemed it proper to call upon him previous to their departure." The President seemed confounded and at a loss what to say in reply to so indefinite an harangue, but being obliged to respond, stumbled upon a repartee that will stand the test of ages. He said that "he was very happy to hear that they intended to make the trip, and hoped it would be productive of the best results. Nothing would do more to properly reconstruct the South than white loyal emigration."

This was construed (very illogically and contrary to his accustomed mode of reasoning) to imply that nothing could please the President better than to be rid of such pests at the North. Without carrying with them a single weapon—not even a pen-knife—the party's proposed trip includes Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee and Kentucky, and will probably consume a month—a practical refutation of all the Chronicle's slanders of the South.

TERRIBLE DISASTER ON THE MISSOURI RIVER.—Chicago, April 24—A special from Sioux City says: The steamer Ualida, en route for St. Louis, with discharged soldiers from the various forts up the Missouri river, struck a snag this morning about thirty miles above this place, and while sinking, her boiler exploded, killing and wounding a large number of persons. Fifty are reported missing. The steamer Undine has left for the wreck with a number of physicians.

After the 1st of May next, "commutation tickets" for five hundred miles of travel on the Wilmington and Weldon railroad will be sold at the various ticket offices at the rate of three cents per mile.

Reports from the southern part of Illinois show that the wheat crop is more promising than ever before known.

Mr. Finch—of this town—has just returned from a trip to Illinois. Don't like—a bit. Corn was selling for 16cts a bushel at Decatur when he left—but the people were cold and selfish, and climate colder. Says, "I have travelled over a heap of States but North Carolina is the best of all." That's so.—Hillsboro Recorder.

A company of about 25—comprising the families of the Messrs. Sikes, Dodsons, Cates, and others, left here Friday morning for middle Tennessee. Honest hard working people. The women themselves being inured to service in the field. We regret to chronicle their departure.—Hillsboro Recorder.

We understand that the body of a Miss Coggins was taken off the cars yesterday to be conveyed to her home in the vicinity of South Lowell. She left home six weeks ago and has been teaching school in Edgecombe county. She died of brain fever.—Hillsboro Recorder.

OPENING OF THE TENTH PROVINCIAL COUNCIL OF BALTIMORE.—The tenth Provincial Council of Baltimore, convened to deliberate on matters of discipline in the province, and chiefly to consider the most effectual means for carrying into execution the decrees of the Second Plenary Council of the Church in the United States, which have been already revised and approved by the Holy See, was formally opened yesterday—the Feast of St. Mark—at the Metropolitan church, in that city, in the presence of a congregation crowding the cathedral to its utmost capacity.

The procession was formed at the Archbishop's residence, and at 10 o'clock proceeded down Charles street to Mulberry, and from thence to the front entrance of the cathedral, moving in the following order: Cross-bearer, accompanied by acolytes; seminarians of the Sulpitian College; scholastics of the Society of Jesus, in cassock and surplice; reverend clergy of Baltimore and vicinity; representatives of the various male religious orders of the province; theologians accompanying the Bishop of the Council, robed in the vestments of the priesthood; the prelates of the Council, in full pontificals, as follows:

Right Reverend Bishops Whelan, of the diocese of Wheeling, W. Va.; McGill, of Richmond, Va.; Wood, of Philadelphia; Dominec, of Pittsburg; O'Hara, of Scranton; Shaunahan, of Harrisburg; Mullin, of Erie, Pa.; Becker, of Wilmington, Del.; Gibbons, Vicar Apostolic of North Carolina; Lynch, of Charleston, S. C.; Verot, of Savannah, Ga.; Fersico, missionary bishop in the southern part of the province; the Mitred Abbott of the Order of St. Benedict; and Most Reverend Archbishop Spalding, of the archdiocese of Baltimore, Metropolitan of the province. Then followed the members of a number of Catholic beneficial societies of the city of Baltimore, the procession numbering several hundred persons.

Thousands had gathered in the streets through which the procession was to pass, while every available place in the dwellings in that vicinity was thronged with people anxious to witness the imposing spectacle. The best of order prevailed. As the procession wended its way to the church the cathedral bell was rung, and the ceremonial office chanted by the clergy and seminarians.

Arriving at the first entrance of the cathedral, the large orchestra stationed in the choir gallery commenced a march, continuing until the bishops and clergy had taken their places in the sanctuary.

The grand altar presented a beautiful appearance, adorned as it was with flowers of every hue, in the midst of which were candelabras burdened with lighted candles.

At half past 10 o'clock the celebration of Solemn Pontifical High Mass began, Right Rev. Dr. Whelan celebrant; the choir, supported by a powerful orchestra, singing Haydn's Sixteenth Mass. At the conclusion of Mass, the sermon was preached by Right Rev. Dr. McGill, of Richmond, on the "Reasons for the Existence of the Church."

After the discourse the Council was formally opened, the introductory ceremonies concluding at 2 o'clock.

The labors of the Council will be closed on Sunday next, when Bishop Gibbons is announced to preach. Sermons will be preached every evening of the week except Saturday.—National Intelligencer.

A well-known wit of this city is reported, once upon a time, to have extinguished a lurid and flamboyant bore who was crazing a dinner table with his gabble about natural history, by assenting to a theory which the bore propounded of the intelligence of oysters. "Oysters," stammered out the victim and avenger,—"oysters!—O yes, I think the oyster a very intelligent animal. He shuts up sometimes."—N. Y. World.

THE GOOSE.—Mrs James M. Page, near Edenville, Kent county, Md., has now in her yard a goose that is known to be seventy-five years old; has been in the Miller family of Swan creek, for fifty years. "Aunt Sallie" has never failed to raise a flock of goslings, or to lay her first egg on Valentine's day, until the past three years. Now she is nearly blind, and totters as she walks.—Chestertown Transcript.

In the case of Carlile, who was confirmed by the Senate as minister to Swecden, it appears that Senator Sumner called for a reconsideration in order, sane said, to have an eye and no vote upon him. But when the vote was reconsidered, Mr. Sumner, by filibustering, staved it off, so that when the Senate adjourned Carlile's nomination went over.

CHLOROFORMING OF BEES.—Chloroform is now extensively used in England and without injurious results, to stupefy bees, so as to remove the honey. For this purpose a table is set about ten feet from the hive, and covered with a cloth. Some chloroform (about a quarter or a sixth of an ounce) is then poured into a shallow dish and covered with a wire gauze to prevent the bees from falling into it. The hive is then removed from its stand and set over the chloroform. In about twenty minutes all the bees will have fallen down on the table in a state of stupefaction, not one remaining in the comb, and the bees are restored to their place, the latter soon recovering without suffering the slightest inconvenience.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN.
Or Pure Liquor of Juniper Berries.

This favorite brand of Pure London Cordial Gin, has stood the test of time, imitation, piracy, high tariffs and unfair competition, and still enjoys a constantly increasing sale; showing that true merit does not always go unappreciated.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is offered to the public as a perfectly reliable specific in all cases of DISEASED BLADDER and KIDNEYS. It acts directly on these organs, with a directness and speediness which render it invaluable to persons suffering from GRAVEL, DIABETES, INFLAMED BLADDER, scanty and highly colored urine, and in all cases where, from whatever cause, a healthful diuretic is required.

Ladies subject to painful menstruation, can by the use of Cordial Gin a few days previous to, and during illness, obtain great relief. In such instances it should be taken with sugar and warm water.

As a tonic and beverage this Gin is unequaled, as it possesses none of the headache properties to be found in those poisons, now so frequently sold under the names of Gin, Brandy, Whiskey, &c.

LIVERPOOL, April 28th, M.—Cotton easier—Uplands 11¼; Orleans 12¼.

HON. FAYETTE MCMULLIN—THE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS OF '64—REMARKABLE REVELATION.—While in Marion, Smyth county, a few days ago, I had the pleasure of several lengthy chats with Hon. Fayette McMullin. Mr. McMullin says that since the war he was one day in the President's house, in Washington, conversing with Hon. F. Blair, Sr. Mr. Blair told him that soon after McMullin's "peace resolution" had been introduced into the Confederate Congress Mr. Lincoln, being extremely anxious to bring about peace honorable alike to both sections of the country, and foreseeing and wishing to avoid, the political consequences of the military subjugation of the South, sent him (Mr. Blair) to Richmond to confer with Mr. Davis and learn what arrangement of the difficulties could be made. He was passed through the lines of the contending armies and conducted to Mr. Davis' house in Richmond. After a long conversation with Mr. Davis and other prominent gentlemen for whom Mr. Davis sent, and for whom Mr. Blair inquired, Mr. Davis said that he had no proposition to make. Mr. Blair then proposed that General Lee's army be marched into Mexico against the French; that General Grant would follow and support the movement; that the united armies would drive out Maximilian; and then the Southern States should name their own terms of reconstruction, everything short of independence being guaranteed. At Mr. Davis' request this proposition was made in writing, and, after some consultation and reflection, was signed and accepted by him. Mr. Blair returned to Washington, and Mr. Lincoln was highly delighted with the success of the negotiation. It was in the hope of consummating this arrangement that Mr. Lincoln and Mr. Seward met the "peace commissioners," Hons. Stephens, Hunter, and Campbell, at Fortress Monroe; but there, to Mr. Lincoln's chagrin, the committee declared that they had been instructed by Mr. Davis to insist upon the independence of the South, and would listen to no other proposal. And thus the whole affair came to a "most lame and impotent conclusion."

Such is the substance of the account related to Governor McMullin by Mr. Blair. Mr. McMullin says that he asked and obtained Mr. Blair's permission to make the statement public, but he had refrained from giving it publicity pending Mr. Davis' trial, fearing lest it might in some way prejudice his case.—Letter in Wheeling Register from Roanoke county, Va.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of scrofula, where the system seemed utterly given up to corruption, have yielded to this compound of anti-truculous virtues. Disorders of a scrofulous type, and affections which are rarely aggravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, have been radically cured in such numerous instances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in most cases a specific and absolute remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed life-long torments in the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tuberculous may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver. These fatal make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable.

It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no eruptions or humors appear, there must be no scrofulous taint. These forms of derangement MAY never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body be so reduced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of life. It is a common error, also, that scrofula is strictly hereditary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure blood. Low living, indigestion, foul air, licentious habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices generally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not fortified by the most constant and judicious care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose turbid blood swells the veins with an apparently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no class or condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effectual remedy.

In St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes and Ears, and other eruptive or visible forms of the diseases caused primarily by the scrofulous infection, the Sarsaparilla is so effectual as to be indispensable. And in the more concealed forms, as in Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and other affections of the muscular and nervous systems, the Sarsaparilla, through its purifying power, removes the cause of the disorder and produces astonishing cures.

The sarsaparilla root of the tropics does not by itself achieve these results. It is aided by the extracts combined with it, of still greater power, to point in this union of healing virtues, Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing those obstinate maladies by any medicine. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases in general, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the invigorating and purifying effect of our Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism and Gout, often dependent on the accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, have their remedy also in this medicine. For Liver Complaints, torpidity, inflammation, abscess, etc., caused by rankling poisons in the blood, we unhesitatingly recommend the Sarsaparilla.

This medicine restores health and vigor where no specific disease can be distinguished. Its restorative power is soon felt by those who are Languid, Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and filled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or who are troubled with any other of those affections symptomatic of weakness. Many, after taking it for General Debility, have written us of the youthful vigor imparted to their nervous system, which seemed buoyant with that prolific life they thought had departed on the advance of age. Others, whose fountains of life were always sterile, acknowledge their obligations to it for an obvious change.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in no wise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the agueish districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in long-standing cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

The Daily Sentinel.

The following poem is by William Pitt Palmer. Nothing that we can possibly say in its praise, could add a whit to its just celebrity. It has been pronounced by some of the most eminent of European critics to be the finest production of its length in the English language.—Ed Living Presbyt.

LIGHT.

From the quickened womb of the primal gloom
The sun, rolled black and bare,
Till I wove him a vest for his Ethiop breast
Of the threads of my golden hair;
And when the broad tom of the firmament
Arose on its airy spars,
I pencilled the hue of its matchless blue,
And spangled it round with stars

I painted the flowers of the Eden bowers
And their leaves of living green,
And mine were the dyes in the sinless eyes
Of Eden's virgin queen;
And when the fiend's art on the trustful heart
Had fastened its mortal spell,
In the silvery sphere of the first born tear
To the trembling earth I fell.

When the waves that burst o'er a world accursed,
Their work of wrath had sped,
And the Ark's lone few, tried and true,
Came forth among the dead;
With the wondrous gleams of my bridal beams
I bade their terrors cease,
As I wrote on the roll of the storm's dark scroll
God's covenant of peace.

Like a pall at rest on a sexless breast,
Night's funeral shadow slept—
Where shepherd swains on the Bethlehem plains
Their lonely vigils kept,
When I flashed on their sight the heralds bright
Of Heaven's redeeming plan,
As they chanted the morn of a Saviour born—
Joy, joy to the outcast man.

Equal favor I show to the lofty and low,
On the just and unjust I descend;
E'en the blind, whose vain spheres roll in darkness and tears,
Feel my smile the best smile of a friend
Nay! the flower of the waste by my love is embraced.
As the rose in the garden of kings;
At the chrysallis bier of the worm I appear.
And lo! the gay butterfly's wings.

The desolate morn, like a mourner forlorn
Conceals all the pride of her charms,
Till I bid the bright hours chase the night from her flowers,
And lead the young day to her arms;
And when the gay rover seeks Eve for his lover,
And sinks to her balmy repose,
I wrap the soft rest by the zephyr-fanned west,
In curtains of amber and rose,

From my sentinel sleep, by the night brooded deep,
I gaze with unslumbering eye,
When the cynosure star of the mariner
Is blotted from out the sky,
And guided by me through the merciless sea,
Though sped by the hurricane's wings,
His companions, dark, lone, weltering bark
To the haven home safely he brings.

I waken the flowers in their dew-spangled bowers
The birds in their chambers of green,
And mountain and plain glow with beauty again,
As they bask in their natural sheen,
O! if such the glad worth of my presence to earth,
Though fitful and fleeting the while,
What glories must rest on the home of the blest,
Ever bright with the Deity's smile.

Wheedon's Excelsior Labor-Saving WASHING COMPOUND.

Patented Sept. 22, 1868.

REASONS FOR PREFERRING THIS SOAP.

The Patentee Claims for this soap the following advantages which are clearly set forth in the Letters Patent, to-wit:

First, it can be manufactured at less than half the cost of any soap ever produced.

Secondly, it may be used successfully in any kind of water—cold or hot, hard or soft.

Thirdly, it so modifies the action of boiling water on woollen goods that their fibres do not contract under its influence, and your woollen garment is as large after boiling as before.

Fourth, it does not decompose the colors of goods, and your prints and stripes are as brilliant after washing as before.

Fifth the goods do not require any rubbing or patent washing machine—all that is necessary is a few minutes boiling and a good rinsing.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

OF THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

WASHINGTON, D. C.

Charterel by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.

CASH CAPITAL,

$1,000,000,

PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers, and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so muddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he rooms into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of

$1,000,000

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,582 policies.

Amount insured,	$10,005,550.00
Total Premiums,	350,117.63

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 892
By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey, 693
" New England Mutual, 543
" Phœnix Mutual, 335
" Massachusetts Mutual, 312
" Equitable of New York, 277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.
In its 10th year, $1,260 "
And in its 20th year, 2,842 "
this latter being 690 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

CAPITAL OF THE STATE,

Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

CAUTION! WE desire to warn the dealers in, and consumers of Snuff generally, that since the war, certain Tobacco Manufacturers, being unable to find a market for their snuffs, felt themselves obliged to counterfeit the general appearance of our packages, and imitate our Trade Marks so that a close inspection is necessary to detect the spurious article from the genuine, and others going so far as to assert that "Lorillard's Snuff is no longer made."

In making this publication we desire to warn the puble against the impositions practiced upon them, as they are the losers thereby. It will be found, upon comparison, that Lorillard's Snuff is "farahead" of all others, being made of the best stock, after an original and secret process know only to ourselves, besides possessing great age, strength and pungency, and is warranted not to contain any dangerous or deleterious substances, which cannot be said of many worthless articles put on sale by others. The best is the cheapest in the end. A circular will always be mailed on application. In ordering please specify Salt Snuff (High Toast,) or Fresh Snuff (Extra Scotch) is desired.

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS MOST EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, in any boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes, poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the textile, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt WITHOUT LABOR or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations.—We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the state.
